EMIL KJÆRGAARD EYBYE

COMPUTER SCIENCE STUDENT

/ PROFILE

I'm a solution-oriented and passionate 21-year-old Computer Science student at Aarhus University.
I love to challenge myself to learn and work with new technology. As such in my spare time I like to work on websites and full-stack projects – check out more on my website.
I would like to become a part of a great team where both teamwork and working independently is a part of every day. I have experience with multiple programming languages, website development, full-stack projects, database systems, etc.
If you hire me you will get a young, passionate, fast learning, and hard-working employee that will contribute to the existing team spirit.
